To All Locals

WE CAN DO IT!

This past August, the Southeastern Dock & Marine Council (SEDMC) of the ILA moved and approved to convene a Women's Maritime Conference. This action falls in line with the Council's mission to harmonize and systemize all classes of labor; to aid and support each other in obtaining justice and fairness by leveling the playing field in the maritime arena. This conference was additionally inspired by the International's recognition of the rising number of women in the craft. The International created a video showing multiple roles that women play in the maritime arena (industry). The ladies have cemented their place in the ILA and have added to our collective talent base of maritime professionals. A link to the you tube video can be found at https://youtu.be/tPvoGpw_xoY

This was a groundbreaking action by the Council and to that end, the first convening of the International Longshoremen's Association Southeastern Dock and Marine Council Women's Maritime Conference will be held March 3-5, 2022, in Jacksonville, FL. As President of the council, I humbly ask for your support of this groundbreaking event. I would ask you to send some of your members to participate as well as sponsoring a portion of the conference at one of the levels listed on the corresponding page. The Education Council of the SEDMC is a 501c3 organization. We have secured a block of rooms at the Southbank Hotel Jacksonville Riverwalk located 1515 Prudential Drive at a rate of $119.00 +tax which includes parking. For those that want to experience Jacksonville prior to the convening of the conference, the rooms on the block are available at the conference rate from February 28th to March 8th. There is no cost to reserve rooms and the cancellation without penalty is 72 hours prior to check in. Please call the hotel directly at 904-396-5100.

Please return the sponsorship and registration forms attached. Make checks out to the Southeastern Dock & Marine Council with Memo: Women's Maritime Conference We are putting together an exciting program of workshops and presentations with some of the leading movers and shakers in the industry. We look forward to your participation. More info at ILASEDMC.org/events.
